

It's about time that we set aside the CW requirement. The efforts by some of the licensed hams to selfishly retain exclusive use of the ham radio frequencies is not in the public interest. Let's join the other countries world wide and eliminate the CW code requirement for all amateur licenses. This will attract a new generation of enthusiasts to the hobby.